Welcome to the Striped Bass Festival!

Now in its 31st year, the Clarendon County Striped Bass Festival presented by South Carolina Federal Credit Union is “bigger than Christmas” to the folks who live here. It’s a celebration of spring, a tribute to the beauty of our county and a special salute to the Striped Bass, the species of fish that put the Santee Cooper lakes on the fishing map of the world.

When you consider that Clarendon County borders Lake Marion, the upper of the Santee Cooper lakes, that may be reason enough to celebrate with a festival each spring. But, we also think our festival is a fitting, fun way to bring together the citizens of our county and the many wonderful visitors who make it a point to attend each year.

When the words “nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina” were penned, the author surely had Clarendon County in April in mind. Mother Nature puts on a show that is hard to beat, so we try to complement the natural beauty of our area with dances, entertainment, the arts and a host of other activities. We try to plan something for everyone, and judging by the size of the crowds, we’re doing something right.

Come join in the fun as the Clarendon County Chamber of Commerce welcomes you to the 31st Annual Striped Bass Festival!

The Mighty Kicks

With non-stop choreography, non-stop music and non-stop energy, the Mighty Kicks delight audiences everywhere.

The Mighty Kicks! began in 1986 when a group of friends from Orangeburg, SC started an air band, the rage at the time, and proceeded to win contests across the region.

They were all musicians, and eventually started a “real” band, calling it the Kicks! The band began to earn name recognition throughout the Southeast, performing for large festivals and private events from Georgia to Washington, DC.

The Mighty Kicks! was placed on the U.S. Department of Defense’s roster of approved artists to perform for U.S. troops stationed all over the world, and had the honor of performing on aircraft carriers and military bases throughout Europe and Central America.
